

Forging a Script

Mark Demel

Seminar, Speaker & Goal

Mark Demel

Mark has been writing and editing scripts for use in church services and other media for nearly twenty years. After serving on staff at Willow Creek for 15 years, he now is an independent Creative Consultant focusing on illustrating, cartooning, writing and performing sand painting presentations around the country. His past roles include producer, actor, director, and editor. He joined the Willow Creek Drama Team in 1987. Mark lives in Elgin, Illinois, with his wife Ann and their three children, Hope, Hannah, and Walker.

Seminar Goal:

To enable participants to better understand some of the principles involved in writing/editing better scripts by walking through the the conception, creation, development and finishing of a script into executable form.
