

ANCIENT FUTURE
Group Life Conference
September 27-29, 2007

COMMUNITY

Leading Change

Ron Martoia

Point Leader General Session: Leading Change

One of a leader's most critical and difficult roles is leading through a period of deep or rapid change — keeping old systems functioning while designing and implementing new ones. Ron Martoia is a “transitional architect” who helps churches “shift paradigms from the old Newtonian world to the Quantum world of the 21s century.”

Speaker: Ron Martoia

Ron's passion is helping people and the organisms they serve to design, build, and experience revolutionary change. Over the last two years, Ron has spoken to over 25,000 leaders in conference settings. Through his speaking, consulting, writing, and acting as a “distant staff member” to a number of churches, he helps churches consider how they can shift their theological outlook, which, in turn, will shift and adjust their ministry trajectory and cultural interface. He is author of numerous periodical articles and the recent release Static, in which he examines the words Christians use to communicate to those outside the church. His Web site is www.velocityculture.com.

- Blind Spot in Our Leadership

- 1.

- 2.

- 3.

- What Is Our Source?

These changes therefore are...

- 1.

- 2.

- Programmatic Change? What Is the Alternative?

- Single Loop Learning

- Double Loop Learning

- Mental Models? What Are Those?

- So What Are Our Options?

- A New Definition of Leadership...

The Indo-European root for lead is...

- A New Model of Change

- The Mosaic Tradition of Zakar

- The Rebel Isaiah

“Forget about what’s happened;
don’t keep going over old history.
Be alert, be present. I’m about to do something brand-new.
It’s bursting out! Don’t you see it?

Isaiah 43:18-19 (The Message)